Prayagraj: "Language acts as a bridge between different cultures and also within its own culture. The attempt to make them a wall is not beneficial for any language and culture", said Prof. Satyakam, Vice Chancellor of Uttar Pradesh Rajarshi Tandon Open University, on Thursday.

Presiding over the two-day national seminar organized, Open University VC Prof. Satyakam, said, to establish this concept, this national seminar is being organized on the contribution of Bhojpuri, Awadhi, Braj and Bundelkhandi languages in the development of Hindi. In the seminar VC Open University, while praising and expressing gratitude to CM said that inclusion of these languages in the proceedings of the Assembly is a progressive step. This will not only develop Hindi but will also strengthen the roots of all the languages of Uttar Pradesh. He emphasized on the simplification of languages and it connects all languages and dialects with each other. Regional languages are connected to folk life and beautiful songs are heard in Awadhi, Bhojpuri, Braj Bhasha and Bundeli according to the seasons.

Special guest Ravi Nandan Singh, editor of Saraswati magazine said that language cannot develop without the development of dialects. Awadhi, Bhojpuri, Braj Bhasha and Bundeli are not different from Hindi.

Earlier, while introducing the topic, Prof. Prabhakar Singh of Banaras Hindu University said that to understand the language, one has to understand the folk and music also has an important role in it.

On the first day of the national seminar, two technical sessions were organized on the development of Bhojpuri and the development of Awadhi. On this occasion, Shreyash Shukla and Sanhavi Shukla and their team presented folk songs in Bhojpuri, Awadhi, Braj and Bundeli.
